

Contract review in a minute or two

Contracts are hard to read. Contract negotiations are typically frustrating and time-consuming. Days and weeks are lost waiting for other people to give you feedback on a draft document. LegalSifter can help.

Read the other party's paper fast

At least one party in every negotiation uses someone else's paper, an unfamiliar contract with unique language. Since your success depends on your ability to negotiate and sign these documents, collecting feedback and approvals from your team quickly is critical.

Unfortunately, feedback is often painfully slow. Vacations, holidays, sick days, and conflicting priorities make your contract just another unread email or paper collecting dust on a desk.

With LegalSifter, clients review contracts in a minute or two using artificial intelligence and the advice of their lawyers and leaders. Users start by uploading draft contracts into LegalSifter. Sifters – the software trained to read text, look for specific concepts, and learn over time – then review the document and identify important concepts that demand attention or are missing entirely. The Sifters trigger Help Text, in-context advice tailored to the client's business and negotiation position by Estrella's attorneys.

Combined Intelligence is a new standard of care

Estrella LLC and LegalSifter proudly announced a strategic partnership in May 2018 to offer a “combined intelligence” solution for contract negotiation for in-house legal, procurement, commercial, and operations teams in Puerto Rico. Combining LegalSifter’s artificial intelligence (AI) with Estrella’s legal expertise will allow clients to review contracts quickly, confidently, and at a predictable cost.

Save money and time

Negotiating a contract isn’t cheap. Time invested during the standard back-and-forth delays the extra revenue or cost savings earned with the final handshake.

Reduce the cost of waiting with LegalSifter. LegalSifter helps you negotiate efficiently, close the deal quickly, and keep your business moving.

Shrink risk

Managing risk is a challenge that all professionals face, but every contract can’t be sent for legal review. It’s expensive and slow.

LegalSifter acts as your virtual negotiation playbook. It identifies important concepts that demand attention or are missing entirely. It taps your brightest minds 24/7/365, in a minute or two. Clients report lower transaction costs, faster negotiations, and reduced risk.

LegalSifter, the product

The screenshot displays a document titled "MUTUAL NONDISCLOSURE AGREEMENT" within the LegalSifter interface. The document text includes the effective date (July 11, 2017), the parties (LegalSifter, Inc. and Customer, Inc.), and a definition of Confidential Information. A sidebar on the right lists several "MISSING" items: Confidential Information Definition Exception, Confidential Information Definition, Determination on Data Protection Law / Legislation, and Execution in Counterparts. The interface also shows a "PARTY SUMMARY" on the left and a footer with copyright information and a "KM pick Mutual Non-Disclosure Agreement on Customer Paper" notice.
